On behalf of the Southwest Region of Federally Employed Women (FEW) and the Southwest Regional Training Program (RTP) host chapter, the Dallas Area Chapter, I welcome you. This year's theme, "Dallas FEW Brings Out The Star In You" reflects our goal to provide you with the professional training you need to become the future leaders of tomorrow.

The Regional Training Program will provide you with professional skills and new ideas to rejuvenate your career. You will have the opportunity to network, meet new people, learn about other agencies, and maybe make a connection to strengthen ties for future job opportunities.

Conference attendees will gain knowledge about various professions. As such, the networking prospects and opportunities are excellent. We have a broad range of training sessions that will be presented to enhance professional development and leadership skills as well as health care. The schedule of events promises to be entertaining and provide an excellent opportunity to meet, converse, and get to know conference attendees and fellow FEW members.

I encourage you to be attentive in your classes, so that you will be more motivated, more productive, and most importantly...more promotable.

Remember...knowledge is power.
